

A Do-it-Yourself Adventure

SONOMA PLAZA HISTORY HUNT

Free Family Fun

Ready for adventure? Sonoma Plaza History Hunt is a do-it-yourself experience where YOU become a history detective!

Discover secret stories, solve puzzles, have fun. Experience Sonoma Plaza like never before.

When does it start?

History Hunt starts any day you have 2–3 hours of free time. Gear: water, snacks, drawing paper, markers, and a phone. Before you go, log onto SonomaPlazaHistoryTour.org then download the coloring pages and word puzzles to take with you. Hey parents:

Watch the short history-through-art videos online to prepare to share fun facts and stories along the way!

Visit the Visitors Bureau at the Plaza to ask for a Sonoma Plaza History Hunt brochure. Then, follow the clues to 10 amazing historic spots. Scan a QR code at each spot to discover a cool story then answer a History Hunter question. That's how you become a Sonoma Plaza History Hunter!

What else?

- Art: Find the buildings in the coloring pages then color them as accurately as you can. After that, draw something else you see; a building, a flower, or a friend. Have fun drawing.
- Word Games: Complete the word puzzles then match those words to what you see on the Plaza. Make a Plaza word part of your name. For example, you could be "Jimmy Duckpond Smith" or "Mary Movie Theater Garcia." How silly can you get?

- Eye Spy a Plaque (rhymes with sack): Plaques are informational panels on buildings. Find then read as many as you can. For fun, draw a plaque for your room!
- Storytelling: Make a story about something that happened on the Plaza involving your favorite TV characters. Decide with the grown-ups what reward your story deserves
